

Household access to electricity Bangladesh, 1991 - 2011

Percentage of households with access to electricity (%)

© IPUMS – International

The map uses spatially harmonized Bangladesh zillas (districts) across three census years. Zillas are the second-level administrative units of the country, after divisions.
Data Source: Original census data provided by the Bangladesh Bureau of Statistics, partner in the census integration and dissemination project.